

North Alabama Stored Grain Workshop

Thursday July 20, 2017

- 8:45 AM Meet at Tennessee Valley Research and Extension Center, 9494 Experimental Loop, Madison
- 9:00 AM Stored grain insect biology – Edmond Bonjour, Oklahoma State University.
- 9:30 AM Making stored grain insects unhappy (Principles of Stored Grain IPM) – Kathy Flanders, Auburn University
- 10:00 AM Effect of grain drying and temperature on insect populations and on efficacy of grain protectants and fumigation – Michael Toews, University of Georgia
- 10:30 AM Break
- 10:45 AM Ins and outs of aeration, temperature and moisture cables and automated monitoring – Edmond Bonjour
- 11:45 AM Lunch
- 12:30 PM Efficacy of grain protectants and empty bin treatments – Michael Toews
- 1:15 PM Tips for a safe, effective, and legal fumigation, concerns about resistance to phosphine – Jim Sharpe, Degesch America
- 1:45 PM Hands-on demonstrations of applying empty bin and grain protectant treatments, using insect sampling equipment and sealing grain bins; discuss the value of sanitation
- 2:30 PM Adjourn

Registration is free. Pre-register by Monday, July 17 by contacting Jake McNeal, Regional Extension Agent, Alabama Cooperative Extension System, tel. 931-993-4578 or 334-422-1135, email: jpm0014@aces.edu.

Pesticide recertification points and Certified Crop Adviser points available. Sponsored by the Alabama Wheat and Feed Grain Checkoff Committee. Thanks to Auburn University Tennessee Valley Research and Extension Center for hosting the workshop.

